DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Omori et al.

Omori et al. disclose the claimed invention including inner layer, outer layer, and reinforcement member comprising members 70, 71, 35 36. The inner layer is U-shaped as broadly as recited and as shown in Figure 7 including an inner, vertical base wall and two vertical end walls 22 and 23.

3. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Batchelder et al.

Note inner layer 18, outer layer 14 and reinforcement 32.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Omori et al.

Omori et al. disclose the claimed invention except for the reinforcement being welded to the inner layer.

Examiner takes Official Notice that various connecting means including welding are common knowledge in the vehicle door construction art.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to connect the reinforcement of Omori et al. to the inner layer with welding instead of rivets as is notoriously well known and in that such connecting means would involve no new or unexpected results in the current instance.

7. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Batchelder et al.

Batchelder et al. disclose the claimed invention except for the specific connecting means.

Examiner takes Official Notice that various connecting means including welding and hemming are common knowledge in the vehicle door construction art.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to connect the door elements of Batchelder et al. by welding and hemming is notoriously well known and in that such connecting means would involve no new or unexpected results in the current instance.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Claims 8-12 are allowed.
